

NATIONWIDE LABORATORIES UK

VETERINARY ANATOMIC PATHOLOGIST

We are looking for an anatomic pathologist to join our team in the South West of England. We can offer a competitive salary, generous pension plan and holiday each year plus UK Bank & Public holidays.

A post graduate qualification in Veterinary Pathology is an advantage, but not essential, but the successful candidate will have had some experience in diagnostic anatomic pathology. For those with experience, but wishing to gain additional qualifications time can be made available for additional study and we are able to supervise candidates for ACVP, ECVP and MRC Path membership.

We are a specialist histopathology and cytology laboratory and we deal with all species, but predominantly companion animals. We also receive samples from native British wildlife and exotic species. Based on site we have a team of five pathologists all with post graduate qualifications and extensive experience. Our team have Dip ACVP, Dip ECVP and MRC Path with between 20 and 35 years experience in diagnostic veterinary pathology. We encourage specialist interests and involvement with specialist clinical organisations and societies. Continuing professional development is essential and time and funds are made available to achieve this. We are also keen to contribute to publications and have extensive contacts for collaborative research projects.

We are situated in Newton Abbot in the South West of England, close to a wide range of cultural activities. For those keen on sports there is a wide range of sports available locally. The transport links are very good with direct train lines to London and other parts of the country. We are 14 miles from Exeter airport which has flights to other parts of the UK and Europe and Bristol airport which has connections with Worldwide destinations.

For informal enquires please contact Trevor Whitbread on 01626 353598 or by email at admin@abbeyvetservices.co.uk or to apply please send your CV and a covering letter to TJ Whitbread at 89 Queen Street, Newton Abbot, Devon, TQ12 2BG.
