Assistant or Associate Professor in Anatomic Veterinary Pathology Département de pathologie et microbiologie, Faculté de médecine vétérinaire

The Faculté de médecine vétérinaire (FMV) of the Université de Montréal is currently seeking qualified candidates for an Assistant or Associate Professor position in Anatomic Veterinary Pathology. The FMV is located in Saint-Hyacinthe, the agricultural capital of Quebec, with 53 000 inhabitants. The FMV is located 60 km from Montreal, a vibrant city with an international airport and excellent connections to Europe and the USA. The FMV is also within easy reach of beautiful, historic Quebec City. The FMV is located off the main campus, but maintains strong collaborative ties with other faculties at Université de Montréal and other universities within the province. A structured mentorship program is available for newly hired professors.

The Université de Montréal is one of the top research universities in Canada. The Département de pathologie et microbiologie is currently composed of 28 full time professors and 17 adjunct professors working in different research areas such as bacteriology, virology, epidemiology, immunology, parasitology and veterinary diagnostics. Many of our professors are members of multidisciplinary research groups. We offer many undergraduate, graduate and postdoctoral fellowship programs. The professor will also work in the Diagnostic Service of the FMV. The Diagnostic Service plays a unique role in veterinary diagnostics in Quebec. It enjoys a privileged environment where diagnosis and research are closely linked. In addition, the Diagnostic Service is fully accredited by the American Association of Veterinary Laboratory Diagnosticians (AAVLD). To learn more about the FMV and to discover its dynamic faculty life, please visit our website.

As a professor, you will have the opportunity to contribute to the excellence of the Faculté de médecine vétérinaire:

Through your teaching and your research activities, enhancing the reputation of your discipline and playing an active role in the overall operations of a renowned institution. As such, you will be expected to:

- » Teach students enrolled in the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) program;
- » Participate in the teaching and training of graduate students and postdoctoral fellows; this includes the supervision of students from the Veterinary Residency Program, professional training that may lead to certification by the American College of Veterinary Pathologists (ACVP);
- » Develop an autonomous research program in an area linked to the assignment; collaboration with ongoing research is also encouraged;
- » Participate in animal pathology diagnostic activities within the Diagnostic Service of the FMV;
- » Participate in outreach activities (publications, conferences, etc.);
- » Contribute to University activities and operations.

To succeed in this role, you must have the following qualifications:

- » DVM degree or equivalent;
- » M. Sc. or Ph. D. degree in pathology or in a relevant field (or be in the process of obtaining the degree);
- » Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Pathologists or Diplomate of the European College of Veterinary Pathologist (or be in the process of obtaining the certification); this diploma is compulsory for the renewal of the position after three years;
- » Eligibility to practice veterinary medicine in the province of Québec (Canada) or obtain a license to practice if necessary; licensure is issued by the Ordre des médecins vétérinaires du Québec;
- » Adequate knowledge of the French written and spoken language or a strong commitment to mastering the proficiency level required, in accordance with Université de Montréal's Language Policy. An institutional learning support program is offered to all professors wishing to learn French or improve their communication skills.
