

The Division of Pathology at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Utrecht University, The Netherlands has a vacancy for a position as

RESIDENT/INTERN (0,8 fte)

A vacancy exists in the Veterinary Pathology Diagnostic Center (VPDC). The VPDC provides teaching of DVM students (year 1-6), offers services in diagnostic pathology (companion, farm, exotic animals and wildlife) and performs patient-oriented research.

The pathology residency of the Division of Pathology is an in-service training program in veterinary pathology. Successful completion of the program qualifies to take the certifying examination of the European College of Veterinary Pathologists (ECVP). It covers all species from wild birds to cattle. During the residency, the candidate will acquire basic competences and expertise in the broad field of veterinary pathology, which will allow the pursuit of a career in diagnostic pathology, research, and/or teaching.

Duties

Your tasks will mainly consist of participation in diagnostic activities and teaching with increasing independence. In addition, you will collaborate in research projects in one of the research areas of the division resulting in publication of at least two peer-reviewed manuscripts in the area of veterinary pathology (as is required for board eligibility). The resident has many contacts with veterinarians, both in the field of clinical medicine and research, as well as biomedical researchers.

Qualifications

We are looking for a veterinarian with proven interest in the field of veterinary pathology. You are able to organize your work efficiently and independently. You have great dedication and perseverance and have good social and communicative skills. If you are not a native speaker, you are prepared to learn Dutch within 1 year.

Conditions

We offer a temporary contract for 1 year with the option for extensions for a total of up to 4 years depending on performance. Preferred starting date is 1-2-2026. Salary is according to experience and within scale 10 according to the collective labour agreement of the Dutch Universities.

Information

For more information contact A. Gröne (a.groene@uu.nl).

Application

Applications consisting of a letter of interest, a full curriculum vitae, and contact information of 2 references should be sent before 17-11-2025 by e-mail to Leonie van der Riet (l.m.vanderriet@uu.nl). This position is open for veterinarians with an EU license only.